Her story...

Kaylee was diagnosed in 2019 with High Risk Neuroblastoma. She underwent chemo, radiation, and a stem cell transplant. In 2021, scans showed that her tumors had grown so she was treated with more chemo. As of October 2022, scans show no evidence of disease! Kaylee's family has been on this journey for a long time, but AFF has supported them along the way!

"Our family greatly appreciates the donors and all of their love and support. A family should never have to choose treatment over paying rent or mortgage, but sadly that is the life us families live. It's donors like you all that make it possible to take care of both, or even to just have a meal with our babies in the hospital. Thank you for everything you do!"

MD ANDERSON PEDIATRIC CANCER RESEARCH

After accidents, cancer is the leading cause of death in children. Thanks to treatment advancements in recent years, the survival rates for certain types of pediatric cancers have increased to 90%. However, there are still many other types that have much lower survival rates. Brain tumors can be among the deadliest with some diagnoses having survival rates as low as 1%.

Our ultimate goal is to create a world where ALL kids can be treated for cancer and go on to lead long and healthy lives.

Addi's Faith Foundation continues to fund a specific project at MD Anderson Cancer Center that is focusing on the use of autologous natural killer (NK) cells to safely and effectively treat recurrent/refractory brain tumors in children.

Meet Beau

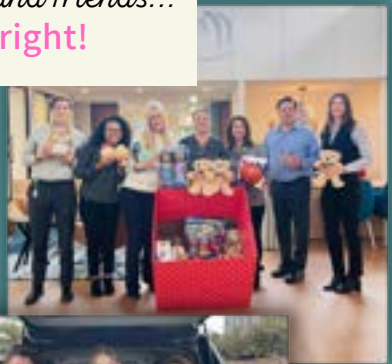

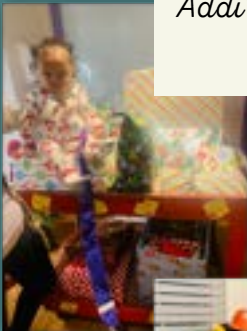

Beau was diagnosed with Leukemia in 2022. He is still in treatment, staying at the hospital 24/7. Beau's family went from a two income household down to one. Addi's Faith granted $1,200.00 to pay off four of the family's outstanding bills offering some much appreciated relief.

"Words cannot express our gratitude for the grant from Addi's Faith. This has helped my family tremendously. Thank you and God Bless!"
